• A Point Identification Guide for Southwest Missouri by Carl J. Sandstrom and Jack H. Ray, illustrated by Harold Del Thompson (softcover, spiral bound) — Already in its third printing, this guidebook focuses on points found in southwest Missouri, but should also be of use in the adjacent areas of Missouri, northwest Arkansas, northeast Oklahoma, and southeast Kansas. Written with the beginner in mind, it is hoped that this guidebook will inspire interest in the science of archaeology. This book features a brief introduction to Missouri archaeology and over 60 pages of illustrations accompanied by descriptions of the morphology and attributes of each point. (82 pp). (2007) Note: Credit card payment is not accepted for this publication. $12

• The Prehistory of Missouri by M. J. O’Brien and W. Raymond Wood [220950] — A fascinating examination of the objects that were made, used, and discarded or lost by Missouri’s prehistoric inhabitants over a period of more than 11,000 years. Organized by chronological periods such as Archaic and Mississippian, the book provides a comprehensive survey of what is currently known about Missouri’s prehistoric peoples. This book is an excellent substitute for Chapman’s out-of-print Archaeology of Missouri books. (1998) 417 pp. $40

• The Trail of Tears Across Missouri by Joan Gilbert [230200] Gilbert draws from such primary sources as letters, newspaper stories, and the writing of missionaries, guides, and doctors who accompanied the Cherokee to create a moving account of their 1837–1838 removal from the southeastern United States to Indian Territory (now Oklahoma). (1996) 136 pp. $14

• Indians and Archaeology of Missouri by C. H. and E. F. Chapman [220610] — Revised edition of what was originally published by the University of Missouri Press as Missouri Handbook No 5. This expanded edition gives an excellent introduction to the cultural development of Missouri’s Indians during the past 12,000 years. Over 300 illustrations help make Indian traditions and artifacts perceptible to the reader. (1983) 167 pp. $20

ORDERING INFORMATION

Orders may be placed by mail, phone, fax, or e-mail.

Return Policy
Permission to return unsold books must be given by us in writing in advance of return shipment. A copy of this permission must accompany the returned books. Credit for returns under various conditions is computed as follows.

- For full credit (100% of what you paid), books must be returned in original, new condition (e.g., with shrink wrap for certain books) within 180 days of invoice date.

- For books returned after 180 days and up to one year of invoice date, 50% of list price will be credited for books returned in original, new condition (even if permission to return was granted within 180 days of invoice date).

- Slightly damaged books or shelf-worn books (including copies lacking the original shrink wrap) will be credited at 50% of list price, or may be returned (if shipped back to us) at purchaser's request and expense.

- Unsalable books will not be accepted for return or credit.

- No returns will be accepted after one year of invoice date, even if permission to return was granted beforehand.

The Missouri Archaeological Society does not accept responsibility for books damaged in transit. The customer may request insurance coverage, which will be added to the shipping charges. All returns should be sent to:
